LIFT TYPE

Installations that have auxiliary doors (excluding through car at the same level ) and are controlled by a Nexus controller.

DESCRIPTION

In the unlikely event of the Nexus unit returning to its default values, the result will be that only the main doors of the lift will open. There is a possibility that the doors could open where there is no landing entrance. A new version of software (Version 1.42) has been released which results in putting the lift out of service should the unit lose its parameters.

SUMMARY

All lift installations that utilise auxiliary doors and are controlled by a Nexus controller need the program memory eprom updating to version 1.42 at the next available opportunity, which should be no later than the next service visit.
